

Medical

1. Describe the educational requirements and scope of practice for a CNA, LVN, and RN.
2. Differentiate between the Sim's and Fowler's position.
3. Describe what safety measures are used when transferring a patient from a bed to a wheelchair.
4. Describe Standard Precautions.
5. What is the purpose of reverse isolation?
6. Describe three methods for taking a patient's temperature.
7. What is the least accurate method of taking a patient's temperature?
8. What is the normal pulse range for an adult?
9. What is the normal blood pressure range for an adult?
10. Describe the procedure for helping a patient dangle.
11. Define and describe Cheyne-Stokes respirations.
12. Describe the following terms:
  - rales
  - diaphoretic
  - apnea
  - dyspnea
13. Define Hospice.
14. What is a mitered corner?
15. Diagram and label the arteries commonly used to count pulse rate.
16. Describe the processes of inspiration and expiration.
17. Explain the difference between a mercury and aneroid sphygmomanometer.
18. What data is usually recorded on the patient's graphic record?
19. Explain the signs and symptoms of dehydration.

20. Designate whether the following would be recorded as intake or output:

TPN

Foley

Hemovac

BM

IV's

Blood products

Gavage

Lavage

Emesis

Urine